Successes and Celebrations:

Monica has been staying away from negative peers. She has been a positive role model while at RTC. Tricia has been a good role model for parenting with Rose. Mike has been respectful of Tricia's expectations with Monica.

Ground Rules:

No blame No shame Take a break when frustrated No surprises; plan so team members know ahead of time Meetings no longer than an hour Before brainstorming around need, the team will allow time for family to share thoughts/ concerns

How decisions will be made:

Everyone is heard regarding decisions, Tricia will have the final decision and safety concerns will be taken into consideration. (Example)

Vision, Team Mission and Prioritized Needs

Family Vision:

Monica enjoys living at home, is spending more time with her family, and has one boyfriend. She will be making positive choices and Child Welfare will no longer be involved.

Tricia has a healthy relationship with Monica; Monica is more involved in the community than with boys.

Rose is in school working towards obtaining her LPN; Chad's children are happy and healthy and his sisters are safe.

Team Mission:

The team commits to support the family's visions by helping create structure, stability and a safe environment for the whole family. The team will listen to each other along with helping Monica express her thoughts about her behaviors. The team will lead by example to help Tricia and her family bring unity to their home while working together, and participating in team meetings.

Prioritize Needs:

The family would like to help provide structure in the home. Monica would like help to work on decreasing her unsafe and unlawful sexual activity. Monica would like help to fulfill the requirements necessary to return home. Tricia would like help to have more time with her family.

Priority Need:

The family would like to help provide structure in the home.

Goal:

Monica needs space and support of her family when becoming frustrated

How will we know when goal is met? (Measurement Strategy)

Monica will report on a scale from 1-10 (8) that her visit has had structure, supervision, and support to her team at next team meeting.

Strengths and culture around the need:

Tricia would like to be home at night for family. Monica would like a regular routine and know expectations. The family would like there to be less tension and things to get back to "normal". Helping with providing parenting for younger children and for others to to be accepting of when things are beyond their control. Being able to go in their own space worked before. Monica is making healthy choices in RTC. It helps Monica for others to check in with her after going to her space to calm down.

Check in on action steps:

Who:	When:
Dave	Before next team meeting

Opportunities for youth to engage in community activities: Monica will go to local AA group during her home visit.

Who needs to be invited to next meeting? Team felt that they had the right people at team meeting and could not thing of anyone at this time.

Plan to add new team members/engage Natural/Community Supports or Service Providers: Team felt they had enough natural supports and will look at community support closer to when Monica returns home.

Other concerns from the meeting was from Chris and Coral; both felt that planning for ongoing support once Monica returns home would be helpful in Monica's transition home.
